

Immerse yourself in Nick Ortner's world of design, and experiences

Ortner.com will showcase design work, team projects and life experiences from Nick Ortner. Throughout these works, a reacquiring theme of leadership will be predominant. Time after time Nick has risen to the occasion as the group leader in both projects and in life. In hopes to use his skills in 3D graphics, design, and leadership, he is currently looking for creative work, with the intentions to work with a team to create a unified work of art. Showcasing his success this site will not leave out the opposite side of the coin. From failure comes knowledge.
